To Publishers of Interior Newspapers.

Being satisfied that the Advertising Agency business, as at present managed, is ruinous to the interests of the Interior Newspapers of the State, and that the best and only remedy is to have the same absolutely necessary to remedy the evil, the undersigned respectfully request the Publishers of Interior Newspapers to meet in Convention at the City of San Francisco, on the SIXTEENTH DAY OF APRIL, 1872, at eleven o'clock A. M. of said day, to take into consideration and settle the matters that may be connected with the same.

EXTENSIVE FIRE.—The extensive fire, which broke out at Jeffersonville, Indiana, was entirely destroyed on Wednesday last, by fire, with all their machinery, tools, and a number of finished cars. The loss is over $1,000,000.

SOLD PROPRIETOR.—Judge Powers has bought Geo. A. Gillespie's interest in the Solano Republican and is now sole proprietor. The last issue of the Republican completed the twelfth year of its connection with journalism in Solano.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.—We are indebted to Hon. O. P. Fitzgerald for a copy of the Report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction for the fiscal year 1871-72. Its statistics and other contents afford a great deal of valuable information.

MASSACHUSETTS.—One of the most progressive States in the Union, being forward in all of the reforms, has three hundred women confined in the State Penitentiary. An exchange asks if this may be taken as an indication of the principle underlying woman's rights?

MODERNITY.—This semi-monthly fashion publication for March has been received. It is full of information in matters of fashion and dress for ladies and children, and should be the constant of all who prize their own wearing apparel.

THE SWISS COMET.—It turns out that the comet discovered by the Swiss astronomer, Plantamour, which that gentleman has published to the earth as being on a straight line for the earth, and would knock up all into millions about next August, is not a danger, after all, but, no other than the comet, celebrated comet, so long known to the inhabitants of earth, and which moves in a regular orbit. So the world may breathe again freely.

THE SAN FRANCISCO EXAMINER.—The San Francisco Examiner has done a new sort of fine material, and exhibits every evidence of the property it so well deserves. Since the death of B. F. Washington, Hon. Philip A. Roach, one of its proprietors, has taken a more active part in the editorial conduct of the paper. Success to the Examiner, say we, for all his good having for the right at all times, and under all circumstances, and should be sustained with their patronage by the Democracy of the State.

CONVENTION.—We are pleased to observe that the call for a convention of interior newspaper men meets with very general favor throughout the State. Nearly all the publishers of papers so far as we have noticed signify their intention to be present, and most of the dailies, also, commend the object for which it is called. Let us act unitedly and put a stop to the opposition that have heretofore been practiced upon by newspaper agents, not only in San Francisco but at the East also. A scale of prices may be arranged, which should be based on circulation, and then the advertising rates published and strictly adhered to.

OVERLAND MONTHLY.—This ever welcome periodical opens with a series of most exquisite pen pictures of the ocean, entitled "Sea Stories," followed by "A Ride through Oregon," written by the now famous "Post of the Sierras," Joaquin Miller. This gentleman's unique pen pictures are rapidly acquiring the standard of fame which his former pen pictures have already obtained. Sacramento Letter.

[From our Special Correspondent.]
SACRAMENTO, March 20th, 1872.
BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

There was on this subject a strict party vote; every Democrat voting against and every Republican voting for the bill. It was asserted by the bill, and others of that ilk, that the San Franciscans were treated very badly by the defeat of this bill, while the Democrats held that it was the wish of the Republicans alone that the bill establishing or rather continuing this body of men in place should be passed; that it was a bill altogether of a political nature, and that those who would be upon this Board, but Republican partisans. It was contended that all the people wanted it, and all the papers were clamorous for it, but the course pursued by the papers, the politicians and people two years ago, were referred to by our speakers, when several bills, clamored for by all these, after being passed as requested, were in a few months so unpopular that men were abused and vilified for giving them their support, by the very papers and persons who urged them to sustain them. The Mercantile Library Lottery scheme, is one of the illustrations to prove this fact. We were glad to see our side of the house stand up together and vote as they did on this subject.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION.
This was another measure that was voted down by a strict party vote. Our members were sound on this subject, and we rejoice at it. Compulsory Education indeed! It is the remnant of barbarism and the result of that great political falsehood that the people belong to the Government and that we and our children are the property of the State. We most gravely assert, that the people of this State never yielded by any Constitutional provision, the right to manage their own children and families. We have not yet said, by any act of ours, that a "Truant Master" or any other agent of the government, shall exercise a right of espionage over our families and report, if he does not go to school, why he stays at home! That we shall be fined for the absence of our children from a public school, school kept some contemptible creature who has secured a certificate to teach. Our blood boils when we think of the effort made to create the office of "Truant Master," as in Prussia. We glory in Mr. Tuttle's speech; it has the right ring. It will bring all the illustrations from Governments where the people are slaves—where the Government owns them, body and breeches.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.
A meeting was held in the Assembly Hall, at which addresses were delivered to the Committees of the Assembly and Senate on Woman Suffrage. The speakers were all women and did as they usually do—made declarations about the wrongs of woman; that all her wrongs were the result of a want of the right to vote. Mrs. Fitzsimmons showed fight. She said if the women of this State had taken her advice, they would have come on to Sacramento 2,000 strong and taken possession of the Capitol. She repeated this twice, so you see that she believed that two thousand could have cleaned out the two houses. If they were all like her it would not have taken more than about ten. Her early education has been neglected. There were no Truant Masters where she went to school; it strikes us she would boss almost any common school teacher. We warrant when she hitched teams with her husband the "gray mare was the better horse." She has evidently worn that rather garment generally called the breeches, most of the time.

THE OTHER SIDE.
A fine looking lady named Mrs. J. B. Frost, addressed a large and attentive audience on the next evening, in an earnest manner, on the impropriety of granting the ballot to her sex. (She was argumentative, she was eloquent, and she was sincere. She did show up the speeches of the advocates in a masterly style. She showed that it would be injurious to the morals, the manners and the virtue of her sex; that it would tend to the disruption of families, the destruction of religion and the overthrow of our Republican form of Government. She showed that woman now ruled the world; that she always had done so and always would do so, if she maintained her present standing with the males. She pointed out the class who wanted the ballot—that few if any modest, virtuous, sensible women wanted it, but that this right would alone be exercised by the discontented viragos of the sex, and the drunken prostitutes of our cities. She was applauded and admired by her large auditory.

LET GOVERNOR PACHECO.
This gentleman, who is now quite ill from bleeding at the lungs, got up from his bed on the State for six days. We learn he intends to visit Lower California.

RELIEF OF H. S. MORSE.
A bill passed the Senate appropriating two thousand dollars for this worthy Shetland for services rendered in capturing several prisoners. His life, according to Senator Tompkins, has been one of great and daring adventure. He is a man of courage and of modesty, and deserves the relief granted him. His acts of prowess and courage have never been excelled by any one in the State, if we except the name of Steve Venard.

SILK CULTURE.
Another monster scheme for silk culture was introduced by Mr. Mackay, of Santa Clara. The boundaries in all amounted to one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars. This gentleman, in defense of his bill, read a speech of twenty-seven pages of foolscap paper, or, rather, twenty-seven pages of paper with foot-caps written on them—but he could only find besides himself five or six lines of sense.

A BILL FOR BUILDING A GOOD ROAD.
A bill for building a good road through these natural curiosities of the State passed the Senate. We think this a good bill. Anything that will bring emigration or visitors to the State who have money to spend, and will spend it, is useful for us.

YOTO MESSAGE.
As all your readers know, the Governor's bill was vetoed by Governor Booth, and the Assembly, in their wisdom, passed the bill over the veto by a vote of 52 to 25. Now this bill was sent to the Senate, and when we wanted to see a fair vote taken upon it, we were mortified to have an elderly gentleman—and one in whose Democracy we did believe—arise in his place and move to lay the whole subject on the table. This is a privileged question; and, of course it cut off all debate. There were twenty-two to lay on the table, and seventeen voted "no" on the question. Of these seventeen, we were pleased to find eight Democrats. In a full Senate the friends of this bill cannot pass it over the veto. There are about fifteen that will stand with the Governor, because the Governor stands with the people. All praise to those who let the Railroad Company know that they don't own the whole State.

Explanatory Letter from the Coroner.

The following copy of a letter from Coroner Edson to the Hon. Board of Supervisors will be read with interest by his constituents throughout the county.

To the Hon. Board of Supervisors of the County of Yolo, California:
GENTLEMEN:—The undersigned, having been elected to the responsible position of Coroner for the County of Yolo, by a large majority of the loyal citizens, and being required to file a bond conditional upon the faithful performance of his duty towards the unfortunate dead who are supposed to pass from this world without sufficient cause, and Monday, the fourth, being the last day in which to file said bond, the undersigned takes this occasion to say that business of a peculiar nature precludes the possibility of his attendance before your hon. body. The following named gentlemen have very kindly volunteered their services to sign an official bond in the penal sum of $70,000 to wit: D. O. Mills, Esq.; C. F. Reed, Hon. Charles Sumner; Col. James Finnegan; H. H. Haight (Ex. Governor); Dr. Von Hoyer; Gen. U. S. Grant; Governor Newton Booth; Wm. Lloyd Garrison, Esq.; Cornelius Vanderbilt, Esq.; Miss Matilda Jane (Spinster); Gen. Ben. Butler; Emperor Norton I.

I have conversed this State with the most flattering success, from San Diego to Esquimaux county. Everywhere I went people insisted on my holding inquests; some invited me to take a drink, which I invariably declined, being a temperance man, and many even went so far as to ask me for temporary loans, which I consider a great mark of their confidence in me. Having great powers as an orator and as a financier, though naturally of a bashful and retiring disposition, and perceiving that I am the only man in the county fit to hold the responsible office of Coroner, I reluctantly came before your countrymen, hoping to have the pleasure of sitting on some of them one of these fine days.

I hope the above mentioned bond will be acceptable; if not I will decline the office, and beg your hon. body to appoint my late opponent, George W. Brown. He deserves the office, having made himself famous during the dry season of '64, by distributing straw free, gratis, and good straw it was, too, even if there was a little mustard in it. In the words of the poet:

"Pleased with a feather, tickled with a straw,"
They do pass jokes about my doing him Brown, but I like things well done, and a straw can tell which way the wind blows. I regard Mr. Brown with the greatest respect, and I reluctantly accepted the nomination; not that the allegiance due to my party induced me to run against him. I should be sorry if the County were deprived of my valuable services, but I know you will dispose of my case to the best interest of the people.

I remain, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
DANIEL WEBSTER EDSON.

IMPROVED ORDER OF RED MEN.
Owosso Tribe, I. O. R. M., of Sacramento, as we learn by the Record of the 12th, celebrated their first anniversary on the 20th, assisted by the Sachems, Sagamores and Braves of other local Tribes, and the squaws of the various Tribes, together with a few invited pale faced guests. The anniversary pow-wow consisted of songs, oration, music, a poem, congratulatory responses, etc., and altogether was a highly interesting affair. An oration was delivered by Grove L. Johnson, Chief of Records of Owosso Tribe; an original poem by J. G. Severance, one of Owosso's Braves, etc. The "toasts" were appropriate and were responded to in the most happy manner—washed down without fire-water, which is considered necessary by the Improved Order when its chiefs and braves have occasion to indulge in the "big talk." Mr. Allen in response to the "Prospects of the Order" said that within five years the Order of Red Men has progressed in this State until it numbers 3,500 warriors. In Sacramento there are four Tribes, with 300 braves, viz: Cosumnes, No. 14; Red Jacket, No. 23; Owosso, No. 39, and Red Cloud, No. 41. It is understood that St. Tammany's day, May 12th, will be celebrated in grand style by the Tribes throughout the State.

MINING CORPORATIONS.
A bill introduced by Mr. Wilcox, of the Assembly, to change the powers of the stockholders and trustees of mining companies, caused a warm and able debate in the Senate on its final passage. The principal change is in reference to removing the trustees. It now takes three-fourths of the stockholders to remove the trustees; this bill allows a majority to do so. The friends of the bill contended that the trustees are too independent of the stockholders, and that this bill would make them more dependent and more attentive to the interests of the owners, being liable to be removed so easily. The bill passed without amendment.

THE GOVERNOR'S LEVY.
A second assembling at the Governor's house takes place to-night. We were favored with an invitation, but could not attend, on account of the impossibility of getting a sufficiently fashionable suit made in this city at this time.

WILL M. CARLETON'S GREAT POEM.
The finest poem yet written by that young and brilliant genius, Will M. Carleton, is "The Burning of Chicago," written for and just published in Our Fireside Friend, the new and attractive literary and family journal, published by Waters, Eberts & Co., 782 State Street, Chicago. The poem is in Mr. Carleton's best vein; beautiful in thought, grand in conception, graphic in expression, and sustained throughout. The enterprising publishers were fortunate in securing this contribution from the author. In this connection we may say that the new paper will doubtless speedily become a prime favorite with the masses of the reading public. It is an eight page, illustrated, literary and family weekly, containing a large amount of interesting and useful reading matter. The publishers are evidently determined to make a first class paper, and secure for it a very large circulation. They intend to give to their subscribers for 1872, one hundred thousand dollars in premiums, to be distributed by a new and novel plan. Specimen copies of the paper, together with full particulars, sent free on application to cash pay.
